Seeking medical treatment

04 SECTION

When to see a doctor or specialist

If it is not an emergency and you are feeling unwell visit your local doctor. In Australia a doctor is called a GP (or 'General Practitioner'). A GP can prescribe treatments or medicines. A GP may refer you to a specialist for further investigations or treatment.

What if it is a medical emergency

In the event that you have a medical emergency for example a life threatening illness or a serious injury that needs immediate attention, then you should go to the nearest hospital emergency department. If your condition is serious and you cannot get yourself to a hospital, call '000' for an ambulance.

Healthdirect Australia

Provides access to health information and advice over the phone.

To talk to a registered nurse call Healthdirect Australia on 1800 022 222 or visit healthdirect.gov.au for health information. Available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Healthdirect Australia does not provide a health diagnosis and does not replace the services of a doctor or hospital emergency department.

Healthcare in Australia

05 SECTION

We understand that health care systems are different all around the world, that's why it's important as a visitor to Australia that you understand how the Australian healthcare system works.

The Australian healthcare system has two main components; the public health care system provided by the Australian government and private health care system.

The public health care system and Medicare

Medicare is the government body that administers the public health care system, which provides high quality health care (either free or low cost) for Australian citizens. Medicare covers treatment in a public hospital, medical costs and certain pharmaceutical medicines.

Medicare does not cover services such as dental, optical, ambulance transport or treatment in a private hospital. To have cover for these services individuals purchase private health insurance, such as provided by nib.

Can I access Medicare?

As a general rule international students do not have access to Medicare benefits. That is why the Australian government had mandated that as a condition of your student visa you are required to hold OSHC.

If you are from Norway, Sweden or Belgium you may not be required to purchase OSHC as your country has alternative health agreements with Australia.

For further information please visit immi.gov.au

If you have any questions please call 1800 775 204

Overseas Students Health Cover

International students are required to purchase an OSHC policy that matches the benefits of Medicare. By holding an nib OSHC policy you not only receive these essential medical services but also have access to treatment in a private hospital and ambulance transport.
